

Why are Priests, Sisters, Deacons and Brothers Necessary for the Mission of the Catholic Church?

We are all on a path, the path of life. This path does not end until we reach Heaven. That is our mission, to get to Heaven. Along the way, there are people who help and guide us. They do so through acts of kindness and selflessness. These people are an example of God on Earth. These people are Priests, Deacons, Brothers, and Sisters.

Priests have been working towards the mission of the Catholic Church for almost 2,000 years. They work everyday, doing different things so that we may get to Heaven someday. In doing so, they perform the Seven Sacraments. Priests also spread the Word of God at Sunday Mass, daily Mass, and a lot of places outside of the church too. They give last rites and perform funerals as well. Priests do all of this to help us, and they do it all "In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit."

Deacons are a great example of helping others. They help the Priest in any way they can. Deacons assist the Priest at Mass. They can also preach the Gospel, homily, and any other Word of God. Deacons can perform a few of the Sacraments as well. These include Baptism and Matrimony. Like Priests, Deacons do these things to help us reach Heaven and have eternal life.

Brothers and Sisters are also necessary for the mission of the Catholic Church. They devote their lives to God by making vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience. Brothers and Sisters do many acts of service. Some serve as nurses, doctors, chaplains, and educators. One of the many things they teach is God's Word. Although Brothers and Sisters cannot perform religious Sacraments, they still do many great deeds to help us get to Heaven.

In conclusion, Priests, Deacons, Brothers, and Sisters help us reach Heaven and spread the Word of God in many different ways. They guide us and teach us with love and care. It is because of them, that our relationship with God is strong and grows stronger everyday. It is also because of them that we are on the right path to Heaven.

Sydney Nguyen
Holy Spirit Catholic School